

Pierre Rivière Spectacular 04

he zigzags through the countryside, from woods to towns, through fields to woods, waiting to get caught, wanting to hang on. Along the way, people recognize him. He meets men he knows on roads in the country. They say to his living body, they speak to his face: You will get yourself arrested and they mean, Don't walk along the road, which also means, I am trying to help you. But no great soldier of the insane wants to remain invisible. When a man does a thing for the face of God, well, when a man does a thing. The Tsaranaev brothers hijacked a car and said, Have you been watching the news, which meant, We are armed and dangerous, which also meant, Don't get yourself killed. Then they were in a chase scene. The news showed footage of the corner they'd rounded and reported there were four homemade bombs thrown from the car, two of them didn't go off, four homemade bombs thrown from the car, two of them didn't go off, we are getting reports that there were four homemade bombs thrown from the car, two of them didn't go off. Tamerlan was shot in the face by somebody, then run over by his brother. It took weeks to find an unmarked grave that would hold his body. Because, when a man does a thing

Pierre Rivière Spectacular 11

Pierre Rivière's mother claimed she was pregnant. Pierre Rivière's father insisted he wasn't the father. Then he conceded he might be. Women are always exaggerating. Every Jerry Springer episode is the same. A woman comes in, another woman comes in, then a man. Both of the women are wrong. One takes off her shoe or just uses her hands. The bald man holds back. The language gets too deep, real loud. Then Michael Jackson drops a piece of tiger fur on the street; it turns into a tiger and walks away.